A Concert for General Audiences at Libraries, Festivals and Community Centers

Presented by Anne & Rob Burns as

A REASONABLE FACSIMILE

Specialists in Renaissance Music Performance

A Reasonable Facsimile, the duo Anne & Rob Burns, amazes the ears and the eyes by playing a plethora of replica Renaissance instruments including recorders, flutes, strings and percussion. Lively dance music and songs from 16th and early 17th century sources in Europe and the New World are highlighted in this cosmopolitan program, "Olde World Harmony." Whether assimilated by traveling musicians or by their counterparts back home, the styles demonstrate that music was indeed becoming "the universal language." Listen to pieces by Anthony Holborne, William Brade, Michael Praetorius, Fabritio Caroso, Pierre Certon and others.

Anne & Rob Burns each received a Bachelor of Arts degree with a concentration in Early Music from Oakland University. They specialize in the music of the Renaissance and the Colonial era as the duo A Reasonable Facsimile. They have received wide acclaim for their unique school and library programs.

OLD OAKS RENAISSANCE CONSORT

♥ Olde World Harmony ♥

This is an augmented version of A Reasonable Facsimile's concert, above. Anne & Rob are joined by 2 to 4 musicians to complete Old Oaks Renaissance Consort.

The result is a wonderfully rich sound in 4 to 6 part versions of Renaissance music. Featured instruments are recorders, flutes, violas da gamba and lute.
